

International Weeks Against Racism

Identifying and Understanding Antisemitism

INTRODUCTORY LECTURE 20. March | 10 – 11:30 | Online via ZOOM

Antisemitism manifests today in subtle ways—through historical distortions, conspiracy theories, or in debates about Israel. This lecture examines contemporary antisemitic narratives, their historical roots, and how to identify them. A Q&A session will allow for deeper discussion.

Antisemitismus erkennen und verstehen

VERTIEFUNGSWORKSHOP

26. März | 09 – 15:00 | Präsenz

Moderner Antisemitismus tritt oft indirekt auf und ist schwer zu erkennen. Der Workshop vermittelt Werkzeuge zur Analyse antisemitischer Codes in Medien, Politik und Alltag. Durch interaktive Übungen werden kritische Reflexion und Sensibilisierung gefördert.

Racism in Healthcare – Findings from the National Discrimination and Racism Monitor

LECTURE

02. April | 10 – 12:00 | Online via ZOOM

Racism affects healthcare by influencing doctor-patient relationships, access to medical care, and trust in the system. While other countries have extensive data, Germany still lacks comprehensive research. This lecture presents key findings from the 2022 NaDiRa study, highlighting barriers and discrimination in healthcare. A discussion will follow.
